

ALLIES PREPARE TO RECEIVE NEW FOE IN BALKANS

Delay by Bulgaria to Reply to the Ultimatum of Russia Leads to Belief That War is Now Certain.

DEMANDS HAVE BEEN IGNORED

Sofia is Silent Over Situation—Military Experts Declare Hostilities Cannot be Averted—Bulgaria's Entrance Into Struggle Will Mean That Greece Will Fight.

LONDON, Oct. 5.—While Europe waited impatiently for Bulgaria's answer to Russia's demands, preparations of the allies to meet the new enemy in the Balkans went rapidly forward. New troops have arrived at strategic points ready for the expected declaration which will tumble Bulgaria into the war's cauldron to be followed soon by Greece. Since the time limit of the Russian ultimatum has expired no word has come from Sofia. However, military experts saw no chance that aught but war would result. Sofia dispatches are subject to delay, hence the answer, if any, may not reach Petrograd before night. London papers agreed in the belief that Bulgaria has ignored the Slav demands.

Petrograd dispatches said the Russian ultimatum had not been handed the Bulgarian foreign office until 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The day limit therefore expires at four this afternoon. The alleged delay was not explained, although the Russian minister was instructed to deliver the demands at 4 Sunday afternoon and leave Sofia 24 hours later if Bulgaria did not agree to break with the central allies. In some quarters it was believed the Bulgarian censor purposely held up the ultimatum to give Bulgaria more time to complete mobilization.

INVENTIONS FOR U. S. NAVY TO BE HELD IN SECRET

Under no Circumstances Will the European Nations be Permitted to Learn of Our New Naval Plans

SUPERCUISER IS PLANNED

New Craft Will Have a Speed of Not Less than 40 Miles an Hour—Other Innovations Are Being Worked Out—Hull Will Be Designed to Resist the Attack of Torpedoes.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—American naval inventions will be kept secret from European nations under the new policy adopted by the administration. While the government disclosed its intention of having a supercruiser capable of making a speed of 40 miles an hour and larger and deadlier than any ships now afloat, the process whereby such high speed is attained will be kept a strict secret. Radical innovations in the hull construction will be designed for new battleships and the specifications will be given to very few bidders and sub-contractors under oath of secrecy. These innovations will be directed at obtaining a hull through which a torpedo from a hostile craft either cannot penetrate at all or only with extreme difficulty. It is likely, too, that provisions will be made whereby the vessel will remain afloat despite such piercing.

GAUL'S ARTILLERY EFFECTIVE IN SHELLING ENEMY NORTH OF VERDUN.

PARIS, Oct. 5.—French artillery has exploded a German ammunition train north of Verdun near Ornes, an official communique said. The statement did not claim further progress in the Artois or the Champagne regions. Artillery, bombs and torpedoes are exploding with a thundering roar on many sections of the battle line. The artillery exchange continued throughout the night near Vede Grand, the Navarin Farm and Souain Hill. French fighting occurred in the Argonne, with grenades and petards and near Courtes Chasses and La Ville Noire.

BERLIN, Oct. 5.—German forces not only repulsed attacks on the western front yesterday but captured a French section northwest of Givenchy, an official statement reported. "North of Loos we repulsed English grenade attacks," said the statement. "In the Champagne, the enemy heavily bombarded the Germans northwest of Souain, but our artillery prevented them advancing. In the Argonne, near Vanquoy, we blew up numerous enemy positions."

Dumba and his wife sailed at noon on the liner Nieuw Amsterdam, bearing the usual diplomatic courtesy of safe conduct from the enemy. He left the country without a message of parting, declaring merely he would have no comment to make until he reached Austria. Dumba and his wife have been busy the past few days entertaining friends and attending farewell functions, for despite his diplomatic blunder he is regarded as one of the most popular in the Washington diplomatic corps.

Fight for Roy is Lost.

FORT WORTH, Tex., Oct. 5.—A long legal fight to determine who were the parents of an 8-year-old lad known here as the "mystery boy" ended when the United States district court here decided that the boy is Roy Carell, of Fort Worth, and not Tommy Delo, of Quebec, Canada.

By the decision Mr. and Mrs. Peter Delo, of Quebec, lost their fight. They had journeyed half way across the continent to establish Roy as their missing son.

In deciding that E. S. Carell of this city, was the father of the boy, the court also decreed that Carell's roving habits precluded allowing him custody of the child, and a home for the boy will be found by the court. The Delos alleged their son had been stolen from their home years ago.

DALE CASE WILL GO TO THE JURY THIS AFTERNOON

Final Arguments are Being Made and it is Expected That All Will be in by 4:30 O'clock.

MANY ARE PRESENT AT TRIAL

Residents of Pilot Rock Section Where Murder Occurred are Among Spectators—Dale on Witness Stand This Morning Declares he Does Not Remember Shooting.

Late this afternoon the jury in the Lee Dale murder case will retire to the jury room to deliberate upon the evidence introduced at the trial. By noon today all of the testimony had been put in and at 1:30 this afternoon District Attorney Frederick Steiner began his argument to the jury. He will be followed by W. M. Peterson, attorney for the defendant by virtue of being appointed by the court, and the district attorney will make the final argument. By 4:30 it is believed, the case will be placed in the hands of the jury.

The court room has been packed all day with an interested audience. Most of the people present are from the Pilot Rock section where the murdered couple and their alleged slayer were well known.

Lee Dale himself took the stand about 11 o'clock this morning and became his own principal witness. He declared he had absolutely no knowledge of having shot the Ogilvys and knew of no reason why he should have shot them. He had been in Pendleton, he said, and had been on a drunken debauch. He remembered only part of what happened in the city while here, he said, and had been under the impression that he was here but three days though his wife had afterwards told him that he had been here ten days.

He left Pendleton on the 11 o'clock auto stage one morning, stopped in Pilot Rock, drank with some friends, went out to the Knotts place in the Knotts auto and on the road exchanged a bottle of whiskey with Harry McDonald for a bottle of alcohol. At the Knotts place he drank again, he said, and he and Earl Abbott fired a shot apiece from his revolver. He secured a saddle horse there he said and remembers setting out for home on it. "He does not remember anything that happened from that time until the next afternoon when Sheriff Taylor was bringing him in to jail. His mind is a complete blank, he declares."

On cross examination he declared he had no remembrance of meeting Jim Stubbfield between the Knotts and Ogilvy ranches, that he did not remember seeing his wife after he reached home and that he remembered no conversation with Sheriff Taylor when the latter came to his cabin and found him in bed. Dale's manner was quiet and he seemed perfectly self-possessed while on the stand.

Earl Abbott testified just before Dale took the stand that he and Dale had each fired a shot from Dale's revolver at the Knotts ranch but on cross examination admitted
